New Haven, Conn., June 22.-It was as "Big Bill" Taft, of the "Rough House" class of '78, that Yale welcomed the Republican nominee to her annual commencement to-day.

Yale men back simply for a good time, would have resented any attempt to stick an "honorable" or even a "Mr." before the genial Secretary's name, and Mr. Taft himself, judging from the way he got into the game, would have been the first to kick. It was Bill, Bill, Bill, and then Big Bill, wherever the Secretary showed his face, and not even the dignified gown of a doctor of laws could stand up against it.

Mr. Taft arrived in New Haven at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A committee of Mr. Taft's classmates, including James M. Lamberton, of Harrisburg, Pa., and Albert B. Fifield, of Dayton, Ohio, were Minnesota Governor Declares His curious onlookers when the jury filed into at the station to meet him. Right then was when the "Billing" began. The Secretary bounded down from the car platform and waving a palm leaf fan, began to do some real handshaking. Some "kid" graduates of 1902, spotting the Secretary, raised the cry: "Everybody takes his hat off to Taft," and the candidate paused to give a salute.

Big Auto Walting. The class of '78 had a big auto waiting at the station, and the committee hustled Mr. Taft into it before other Yale men, bossing around as freshmen, could get many years. This opinion is shared by forty counts against him, on which you him. The auto headed straight for the old Edwards house in Elm street, opposite the things were which tickled Mr. Taft and the other '78 men so immensely. Some Old References.
